dedication

A major concern of our generation is the lack of individualism in our lives. The definition from Webster's defines an individual as one marked by a distinctness and a complexity within a unity that characterizes a person; being peculiar, striking, or uncommon enough in character to be easily identified or distinguished.

The 1970 SCARAB has explored the role of the individual in the daily school life. We have tried to capture those moments that fulfill our definition of the individual.

All human beings have a desire to be individuals, but individualism is especially important to young people. There exists a fear that in our adult life we will become just another obscure cog in the wheel of everyday living; that at the time of our death we will have left nothing to show that we fulfilled any purpose on earth. This is why we strive to be brave enough to say what we feel is right, to try new challenges, and to work to succeed in whatever endeavor we feel will make us an individual. Only through changes in our way of life can individuals strive toward a goal of a better world.

With these few thoughts in mind, we proudly present the 1970 SCARAB. May you enjoy it now and for many years to come.

The 1970 SCARAB has been dedicated to you the individual. Since this dedication is meant for you, I hope it will make your yearbook a very personal possession. Through the yearbook, I hope you will find a source of many enjoyable hours now and in the future.

I have enjoyed the experience of editing the yearbook, and I am grateful for receiving the opportunity to do it. A great deal of credit for the yearbook must go to my five competent assistants: Paula Budzak, Kathy Sink, Stan Harvey, John Janes, and Bruce Bollero. Special credit should be given to Stan Harvey for his poem which appears in the preceding section. The person who deserves the greatest credit is an individual in the truest sense of the word, Gary Messersmith. Without his help and guidance, this yearbook could not have been produced. I also wish to thank Mr. Paul Hickman for his time and talent in taking pictures for the yearbook. I would like to thank Mr. Tony Morrow from American Yearbook Company for his technical advice and service.

This year's Homecoming was different from any of the past. For the first time the queen and her court were announced during the pep session. Due to these changes, the Queen and her court were able to reign over the game and the parade.

The theme for the Homecoming Dance was "A Time For Us". The gym was decorated in a combination of lavender and purple.

The spirit at the pep session this year was really great, especially from the Senior and Sophomore classes. The Sophomore class was awarded the "spirit stick" for their voracious support of the Rangers.

The clubs and classes went all out to win the prize for the best floats in the 1969-70 Homecoming Parade. The result of their enthusiasm was one of the best parades in many years. Without a doubt one of the finest floats was the Senior class and Art Club float, although it didn't win a prize.

The night before the game a bonfire was held at Paula and Janice Odom's. There was a good turnout and everybody was in high spirits.

In spite of the bitterly cold afternoon a capacity crowd of loyal Ranger fans were there, cheering, hoping anxiously for a glorious victory. Tensions and emotions were at their peak. The student body, which had displayed their tremendous Ranger spirit in the pep session on the previous afternoon, had left in the boys a raging desire for victory. They fought to the end, never giving up, especially the seniors realizing it was their last Ranger football game. Although the game ended with a score of 18 to 0 for the Redbirds, everyone was very proud of our 1970 Rangers.

A Time for Us was the theme for the 1969 BCHS Homecoming. The climax was the crowning of Miss Judy Barton as the 1969-70 Homecoming Queen. She was crowned by co-captains Dennis Parker and John Munoz.

Miss Debbie Auten, 1968-69 Queen, was escorted from her throne by last year's tri-captains Mike Gunter, Rick Rusher, and Larry Williams.

The band which supplied the music for the evening was the Blue Shadows. There was no grand march this year. Two attendants from each class were chosen by popular vote of the students to represent their classes.

The attendants and their escorts were as follows: (right) Mike Wasylczak, Jean Ann Corn; Stewart Waggoner, Carla Hottenson; John Kasky, Kerrie Lampley; Mike Gordon, Mary Jankousky.

The 1969-1970 Rangers football season ended in a disappointing 1--10 record. The Rangers' only win of the season came at home against Cairo 26--6.

The Rangers started their gridiron campaign at Sparta where the Rangers lost not only the game but also Sr. quarterback John Kasky and star halfback Roger Adkins. Adkins received a knee injury that kept him sidelined the remainder of the season. Injuries were very prevalent during the season and were a main cause of the poor record.

The Rangers hosted Metropolis at home the second game of the season. They played one of their better games of the season but fell short 14--12. The Rangers' next two home encounters ended in a loss to Marion and a win against Cairo.

Traveling to Herrin the Rangers won every phase of statistics except the final score which fell in Herrin's favor 12--0. The Rangers traveled to Centralia where they were easily defeated by the Orphans.

The Rangers' next battle was against Mt. Vernon. They played a good game against the visiting Rams but still suffered defeat 28--7.

The Rangers continued to play good football for the remainder of the season but still could not find victory. The Rangers ended the season with losses to Carbondale, Harrisburg, Johnston City, and West Frankfort.

Although the Rangers ended with a losing record, the season could not be called a loss. The Rangers possessed every quality of a traditional hard-hitting team, which gave the fans many exciting moments.

The Sophomore Ranger football season was characterized by numerous ups and downs. The Ranger's high points consisted of victories over Herrin, Metropolis, Centralia, and Harrisburg. The low points of the season were two point losses to Mt. Vernon, Carbondale, and West Frankfort. A 12--0 loss at the hands of a rough Marion team was the Rangers' only convincing defeat. The tie on the Rangers' record was their second meeting with Herrin where the two teams battled to a scoreless tie.

Several Sophomores experienced valuable varsity action due to injuries that plagued the varsity Rangers. The Sophomore Rangers show great promise for the next two years and will be tough competition in the future.

The Ranger Freshman ended a disappointing season with a 1--7 record. The lone win came at Harrisburg, the final game of the season 34--12.

The yearling freshman lost to Eldorado, Centralia, Carbondale, Marion, Mt. Vernon, Herrin, and West Frankfort.

Although the Rangers suffered many defeats they never gave up until the final gun sounded. They were a true Ranger team who provided the fans many good football games.

The 1969-1970 edition of the Benton Ranger basketball team had a very successful season. With four juniors and one sophomore in the starting line-up, Coach Herrin's team placed second in the conference, one game behind the Mt. Vernon Rams.

The basketball season started in a rough way for the Rangers. Going into the Centralia Tournament, the Rangers carried a 2--3 record. The tournament held no surprises for the Rangers. They were defeated by New Trier in the first game. After beating Salem in the second game, the Rangers were the victims of a strong Peoria Spaulding team that eliminated the Rangers from the tournament.

The Rangers continued with their sporadic play until the Quad City Tournament. After losing to Fairfield in the first game of the tournament the Rangers went on to beat McLeansboro and Carmi. After the loss to Fairfield, the Rangers managed 10 wins out of their next 11 games. The Rangers ended their regular season with a 15--9 record.

Starting the Regional Tournament, the Rangers were underdogs to West Frankfort, who had defeated the Rangers twice during the regular season. After disposing of Christopher and Johnston City, the Rangers were matched against West Frankfort for the championship, and the right to advance to the Sectional Tournament at Harrisburg. In a hard fought game the Rangers came out as victors over the Redbirds and advanced to the Sectional Tournament.

After disposing of Pope County their first Sectional foe, the Rangers advanced to the finals against Mt. Vernon. Following a long seasons battle, the Rangers finally fell to the Rams 70--63. This ended the season with a 19--10 record.

The 1969-1970 freshman basketball Rangers ended the season with a respectable 11--12 record. The freshman team under the leadership of Coach Leon Jourdan, placed second in both the South Seven Tournament and the Blind Draw Tournament.

The freshman Rangers show great promise for the future years. Three members of the team moved up to the Sophomore team because of their outstanding ability.

The 1969-1970 Rangers had a mediocre season. Under the leadership of Coach Maurice Phillips, the Sophomore Rangers could only manage 3 wins against 16 losses during the regular season. The Rangers never gave up and lost 7 of their games by 4 points or less.

Although the Rangers had a poor regular season, the Sophomore Tournament was a climax. Going into the tournament as under-dogs, the Rangers carried Carbondale into an overtime for the championship and came out as the Sophomore champions. Their final record for the season was 7--16.

ANDY CARSTENSON

The 1969-'70 Ranger Cross Country Team had one of the best seasons in Benton's history. Led by talented Andy Carstensen and Larry Haney along with veteran runners Tom Learned, Don Smith, and Mike Zinzilieta, the Rangers received six 1st places and five 2nd places. Carstensen, a junior, set a new record for the 2.68 mile course at the Benton Forestry at 14 min. 20 sec. The team was rounded out by Mark Zinzilieta and Terry Lewis.

On December 18, the Junior class presented two one act Christmas Plays, "The Christmas Miser" and "Pop Reads The Christmas Carol". This variation from the past performances proved to be quite successful and entertaining. However, the people that enjoyed the two plays the most were the members of the cast and crew. Under the direction and guidance of Mrs. Sandy Nilsson the members of the cast managed to have a good time as well as develop their theatrical skills.

The 1969-70 B.C.H.S. Chorus had a very busy schedule appearing at many civic clubs and supplying music for special occasions. A Christmas concert was presented in which the singers wore the new gold stoles over their robes for the first time this year. The spring concert in March was an entertaining evening with variety of mood in songs ranging from the serious to the most light-hearted renditions. Soloists and ensembles polished their techniques for the spring state music contest in Pinckneyville. Their final appearance was at Baccalaureate and Commencement.

A problem was recognized this year which has been neglected in the past. The problem is the lack of recreational facilities for youth in this city. This year action was taken to improve and produce facilities. The Elks club made the donation of the top floor of their buliding for temporary use as teen town. Civic groups pledged support and the youth worked for a solution to the problem.

Taking pictures, writing copy, drawing up pages, soliciting ads, selling yearbooks, and meeting deadlines are but a few of the many responsibilities of the Scarab staff. The staff has found that putting together a yearbook is hard work, but it is worth the work when we see the reaction of the student body. Working on the yearbook wasn't all work, there were many moments of fun and laughter. Mr. Gary Messersmith, sponsor, gave assistance and guidance to the 6th hour staff. The 6th hour staff consisted of Rusine Mitchell, Paula Budzak, Kathy Sink, Stan Harvey, Bruce Bollero, and John Janes.

The planning of the 1970 SCARAB began last spring in April when the new staff went to Chicago to meet with our publisher. This was the time when it was decided to dedicate this yearbook to the individual. Throughout the planning and production of the 1970 SCARAB, we have made an effort to carry this thought through the yearbook to impress on you the importance of the individual.

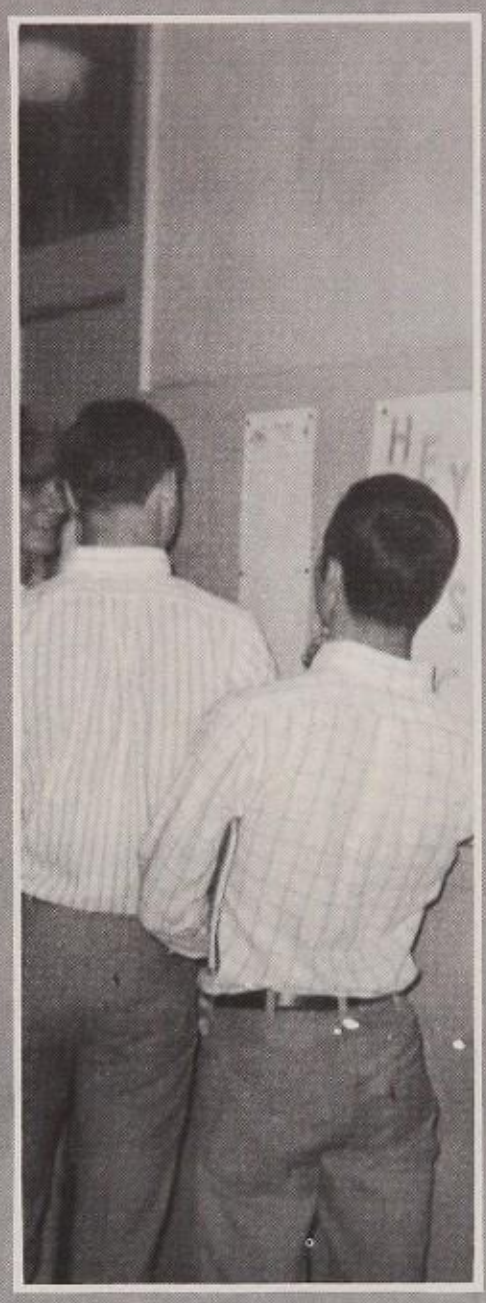
faculty and organizations



library club

The Library Club is composed of a small group of girls who spend at least one hour a day in the school library. Members of the club must acquire a knowledge of the Dewey Decimal System and other library science information to help them to be able to assist the students. Parties, shopping trips, and conferences were the rewards for their work. The sponsor is Mrs. Little, and Vickie Rone is president.

The Vocational Industrial Clubs of America is a national organization for youth--boys and girls enrolled in secondary vocational industrial education. This includes students in trade, industrial, or technical education courses that are vocational and occupationally oriented. V.I.C.A. is the only national organization whose purpose is to serve the vocational industrial youth of whom there are approximately three to four hundred thousand in the United States. At our local level, Mr. Gulley is the sponsor and Vivian Willis is the president.

1. President Vickie Rone and Secretary Eileen Wilkerson working in the library. 2. Teri Burwell worked as an apprentice beautician during year. 3. Mark Joplin stocks shelves at Krogers Food Store.

The organization which helps to promote new and better ideas at B.C.H.S. is the Student Council sponsored by Miss Kirsch. This year the Council led discussions for possible changes in Homecoming activities. They were in charge of school elections, raising, and lowering the flag, and chairman of Homecoming Dance. President Debbie Gladson presides at assemblies.

1. Taking care of the flag was one of the duties of the student council. 2. The members drew up plans for the new homecoming activities. 3. Many meetings were called to discuss topics of interest to the students.

Hi-Tri is an organization for all the girls in high school. Their watchword is loyalty; their aims are the ideals of character, friendship, courtesy, pleasure, and success. They are led by four senior officers and by a council of sixteen, made up of four girls chosen from each class.

In the fall the freshman girls are formally accepted as members, and then they and their mothers are entertained with a tea.

During the year any girl in school may attend two conferences held at participating schools. Then too, Hi-Tri helps plan and decorate for Homecoming; and for Christmas furnishes and decorates the tree in the main hall. On the Monday night after Mother's Day, there is the traditional banquet to which any girl may bring her mother. Following this banquet, the officers and council for the next year in an impressive ceremonial are installed. Jean Corn is president, and Miss Armentrout is sponsor.

1. Don Smith prepared for the Hi-Y hayride. 2. Girls waited anxiously for the Hi-Y hayride to begin. 3. Officers of Hi-Y discussed plans for the 1969-1970 school year.

Each year the Latin Club members are those who are enrolled in the Latin II classes. Their activities, of course, reflect an added interest in the life and customs of the ancient Romans.

The club is represented in the Homecoming Parade by a Roman float. It raffles off "Roman-Slaves-for-a-Day" to help finance its mid-December Saturnalia feast. To this the members come dressed as Romans and are served Roman food by Roman slaves. For this "honor" the top ranking students of the Latin I classes are selected.

Miss Armentrout is the sponsor and John V. Malkovich, the president.

1. Becky Harvey worked as a slave for the annual Saturnalia Banquet. 2. Leanne Mitchell was one of the Latin II students chosen as slave-for-a-day. 3. Latin club officers discussed plans for a Homecoming float with Miss Armentrout.

El Circulo Espanol has completed its second successful year under the sponsorship of the Spanish instructor, Mr. Tolley. The club's biggest project was adopting an underprivileged child, a dance was sponsored by the Spanish club, and annual Christmas banquet was enjoyed. The year was closed by an end-of-the-year picnic.

1. Spanish club discusses Spanish culture in a small group. 2. John Munoz, president, conducted meetings. 3. Mr. Tolley, sponsor, explains literature about adopting an underprivileged child.

Honor math students are members of the Mu Alpha Theta. The new sponsor this year is Mr. Tom Stewart. Because the club is about twice as large as in former years more activities were enjoyed. A dance by the Egyptain Combo was their first money-making event. Members made a Homecoming float, went on a field trip, and had a smashing picnic.

1. Chuck Davis and Gary Lemmon display their poster for the big dance. 2. Mr. Stewart telling Cynthia Hall to read the minutes of the last meeting. 3. The Math Club members enjoying the program.

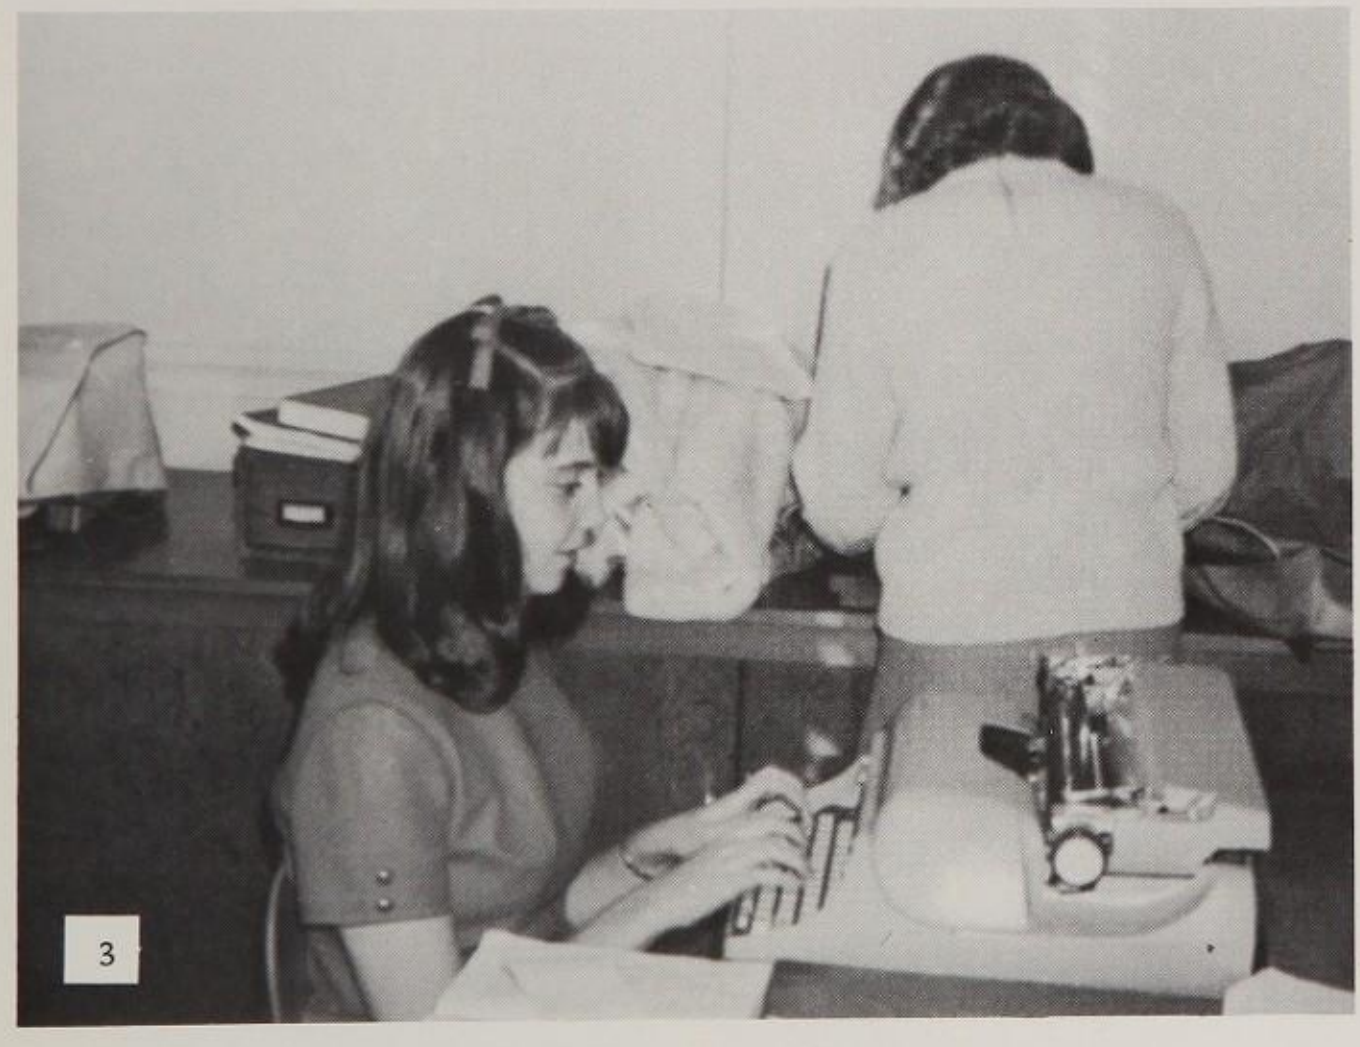
The Future Farmers' of America is an organization for boys enrolled in agriculture. The club attended many grain shows and soil judging contests. Members of F.F.A. and F.H.A. enjoyed the annual Farmers Ball which is probably the biggest event of the year. The club also attended leadership school and a livestock and poultry judging contest. Mr. Finley is the club's sponsor, and the president is Robert E. Page.

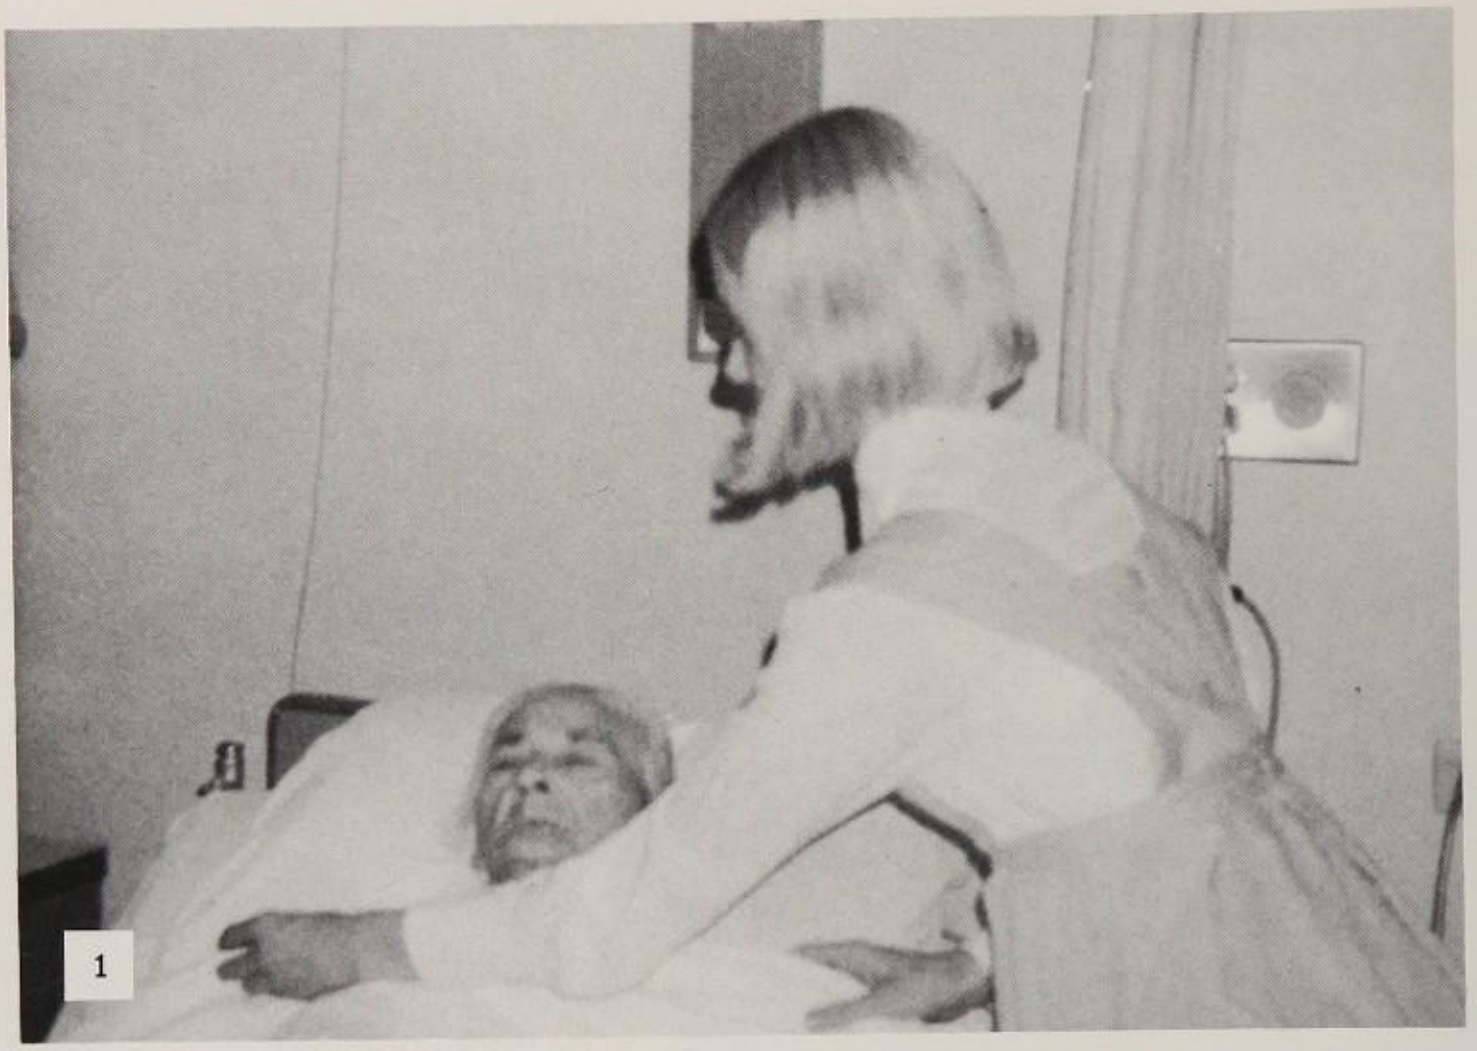
future business leaders of america



Future Business Leaders' of America is an organization for junior and senior girls who are considering a future as secretaries, bookkeepers, or clerks. Through the activities, of F.B.L.A., the members learn about the opportunities, requirements, and working conditions in the business world. The meetings feature guest speakers, social activities, and refreshments. Laurie Pearson is the president, and Mrs. Trulove the sponsor.

1. Mr. Finley lectures on the maintenance of a small gas engine. 2. Ronald Smith applies knowledge from F.F.A.
3. Laurie Pearson types a bulletin to announce the next meeting.

future nurses' club



Encouraging girls to enter a career in nursing is the major purpose of the F.N.C. The girls participate in all community health fund drives. Older members work as volunteers called "pinkies" at the Franklin County Hospital and Skilled Nursing Unit. Carolyn Payne is the president, and the sponsor is Mrs. Paxton.

1. Vickie Layman helps a patient at the Franklin County Hospital. 2. Vickie Moore carries a tray to a waiting patient.

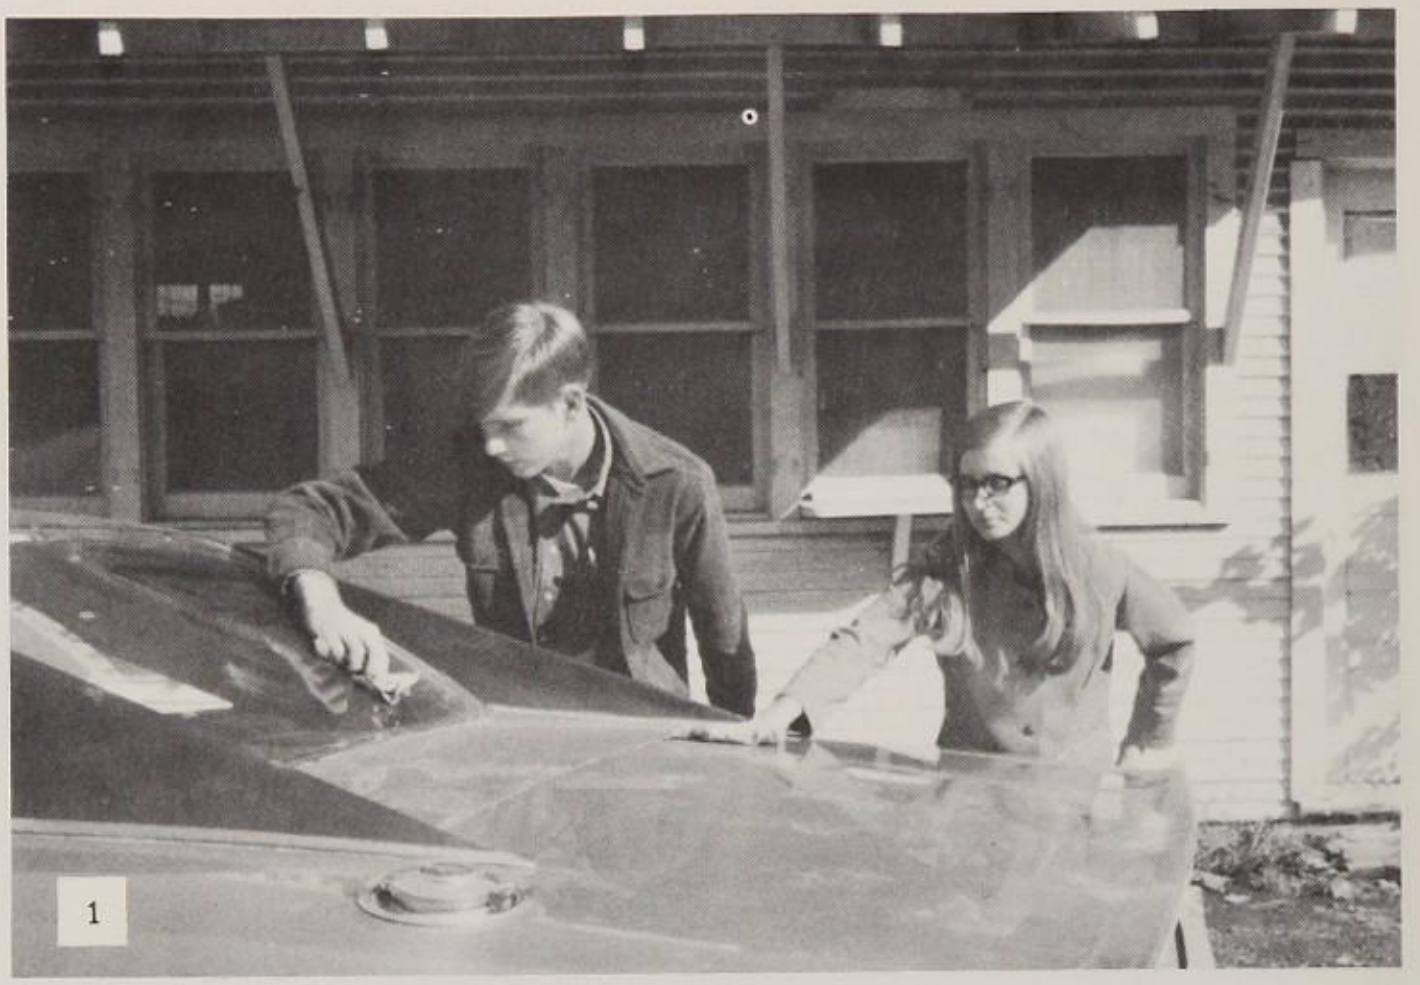
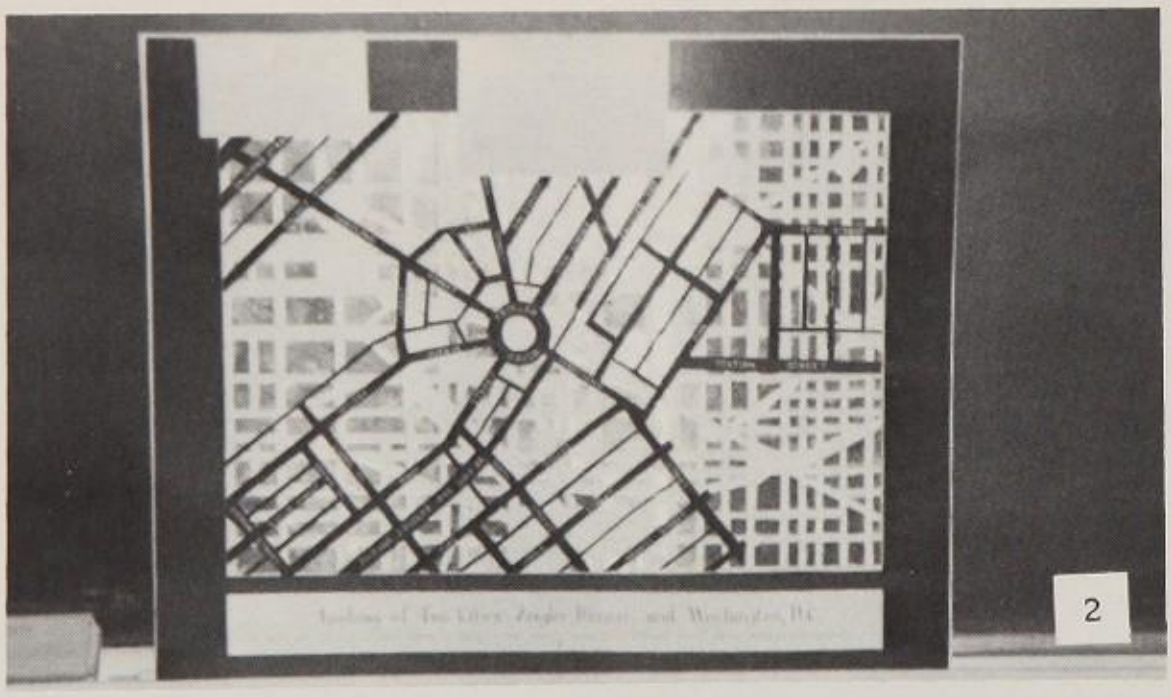
Our World--a Priceless Heritage has been the project of the Future Homemakers this year. President Debbie Festavan with the help of sponsors Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Dallape planned numerous activities for the year.

A skit, "Happiness Is", was presented by the Benton group at the Fall Rally held in Murphysboro. Members were busy during the Christmas season making fruit and cookie plates for the Nursing Homes. During National F.H.A. Week in April the girls participated in various activities each day. The busy year was closed with the formal installation of new officers in a candlelight ceremony.

1. President of F.H.A. Debbie Festavan worked raking leaves for Hobo Days. 2. For the fall rally F.H.A. girls put on the skit "Happiness Is". 3. Mrs. Roberts helped Sherry Burzynski with a project. 4. Girls worked in the kitchen for F.H.A. demonstrations.

history club





Mrs. Alberta Hidritch is the sponsor of the History Club. Regular monthly meetings were conducted by President John R. Moore. In October the club members visited the Lincoln shrines and New Salem. A Pilgrim Thanksgiving dinner and dance were enjoyed in November as well as a Christmas party and dinner in December. An outdoor party, ice skating, and weiner roast were among the most fun-filled activities of the year. The Southern Regional Historical meeting at Norris-City-Omaha and the annual History Fair in the Old Gym were events held in the spring. May brought the sun and a swimming party at the Holiday Inn for members. A trip is planned for the first part of the summer.

1. History Club's first project was a car wash. 2. One of the outstanding history projects was a map made by Paula Budzak. 3. Mrs. Hidritch, sponsor, and John Moore, president, explain the year's schedule of events.

science club

The Science Club is sponsored by Mr. Richmond. At each meeting different programs were presented, including guest speakers, movies, demonstrations in the laboratory, and slides. The club took a field trip to St. Louis and saw the Planetarium and the Climitron.

1. Mr. Richmond lectures on the use of a slide rule. 2. A large turnout attended a Science Club meeting. 3. A demonstration was given by students interested in chemistry.

The Art Club was formed by students interested in art. Its membership was increased this year due to the guidance of the club sponsor, Mr. Messersmith. The members sold Halloween insurance as a fund raiser for an Art Guild. The guild, operated by art club members, is being developed on East Main. Club members contributed their paintings and other works of art for exhibition and sale. In the future night classes will be offered at the guild. Brad Loman is the president.

The Benton Key Club, sponsored by the local Kiwanis organization had another active year of civic service. Under the new leadership of Mr. Hancock, the boys carried out many worthwhile projects. A few events were the annual Soap Drive for Dixon Hospital, Heart Fund Drive, and helping the community provide a new youth center. During the course of the year, the Key Club had many interesting guests and speakers at their meetings. The club's chief goal is to better its relationship with the entire community. John Munoz is president.

1. Stan Harvey and Mr. Hancock discussing the plans for the year's activities. 2. John Munoz becomes an expert at flipping pancakes.

Future Teacher officers served as guides for the freshmen on their first day of school. The kick-off program was presented by Angela Striegel, a student from Germany, who attended B.C.H.S. this year. She discussed the similarities and differences of German and American education. In January, the program was turned over to first year college students home on semester break. The highlights of the spring were the dance presentations supervised by Mrs. Koller and the dinner given by the F.T.A., in honor of the faculty and school board members and their families. Paula Odom served as president this year, Mrs. Craddock is the sponsor.

--those people chosen by the faculty and administration of Benton High School as having the qualities that make them stand out above their class. They are the leaders--they have talent, interest, aptitude, and intelligence. They have the willingness to work, and the fortitude to carry their work through to the end. They and many like them are the leaders of tomorrow as well as today. But more important than all this they are individuals--each with an identity that marks the strength of our future. And as individuals they can lead us to a peace --a lasting peace . . .

1970, for the seniors at B.C.H.S. it's a time of looking back and a time for looking ahead.

As freshmen, we spent most of the year becoming acquainted with the people of our class, teachers, and life at B.C.H.S.

Our sophomore year came and passed as quickly as the year before. We occupied our time with selling Zip Code Books and candles.

As juniors, we were first to put on a variety show instead of a play. The JUNIOR VAUDEVILLE VARIETY SHOW was a success. The spring of the year brought another first, Junior Skip Day. We gave a beautiful Senior Prom with the theme Bon Voyage.

Our senior year began with our play. It was a court room drama, THE PEOPLE VS. MAXINE LOWE. We enjoyed our Senior Prom and look forward to Graduation. Looking ahead, we wish for Peace.

We started out as Juniors with the traditional candy sale as our fund raiser for the Junior-Senior Prom. Instead of a large committee, the class officers and student council members chose our class rings. We were very excited over their arrival. Our Homecoming float won first prize. At Christmas we presented two plays, "The Christmas Miser" and "Pop Reads A Christmas Carol", which were a big success. We are proud of our Junior boys for forming a large part of the varsity basketball team.

We are looking forward to our last year at B.C.H.S. and we hope it's as fun-filled as the past three have been.

The Sophomore class had an annual fund raising project which was raffling off a television. The raffle was quite a success.

Another project of the Sophomore class was working in the concession stand during football and basketball games. Being able to serve people, sell them a coke or popcorn, and proudly to give them their change with a smile. To say thank-you and please come back was a rewarding experience.

A really great honor was winning the "Spirit Stick" at the 1969 Homecoming pep session. We took pride in our support of our Rangers.

We look forward to the prestige of becoming an upperclassman next year, but we will always look back to our Sophomore year with a smile.

We, the Class of 1973, found the first few weeks of high school a time for change. New schedules, rules, and regulations had to be learned. The classes seemed to be days long.

After things settled down, we began to get involved in clubs, election of officers, and float building.

Next year we are looking forward to becoming sophomores--not because we like the sound of the word sophomore better than freshman--but because we will no longer be the "greenies" of high school.

If you had a problem, Mr. Trulove would listen and then offer a good common sense solution that worked . . . I often used his friendship in this way. . . . I have know Glen Trulove both as a coach and a teacher for the past 25 years. I considered it a privilege to work with this gentleman. . . . Our lives were all enriched by Mr. Trulove's sincere honesty in the short time he spent at Benton High School. . . . A man, an adviser, a friend.
